

Save Remington Woods

Woodlands like this don't appear out of nowhere, they must be preserved

A forest gem

Remington Woods is a 422-acre forest in Bridgeport and Stratford Connecticut with a 23-acre lake, wetlands, forest and meadows. It is home to at least 70 species of birds, and other animals

What is the threat?

Dupont owns the property. It is closed to the public while they clean up munitions from previous use. Once cleaned up, it could be an oasis for wildlife and for us or it could be destroyed for corporate profit.

Why protect and preserve it?

Woodlands like this are essential for the health and well-being of the community.

Develop elsewhere

Industrial and commercial buildings sitting empty throughout the area could be revitalized rather than destroying Remington Woods.
